

A photograph of an elderly man with a long white beard and hair, wearing a red and blue plaid shirt and light-colored trousers. He is standing on a construction site, surrounded by stacks of large, flat stone slabs. He is holding a large, curved metal tool, possibly a chisel or a pry bar, and appears to be working on one of the slabs. The background shows a vast, open landscape with green vegetation and a few buildings in the distance under a cloudy sky.
